

PS QUESTION BANK

PART-A

SHORT QUESTIONS

1. Why are nouns and main verbs considered essential parts of sentence structure?
2. How do nouns function as the object in a sentence? Give an example.
3. Explain the degrees of comparison of adjectives. How are they formed and used correctly in sentences?
4. What are articles? Explain the difference between definite and indefinite articles with examples.
5. What are irregular verbs? Explain how they differ from regular verbs with suitable example.
6. What is noun & write the different types of noun?
7. Define Possessive Nouns and illustrate with “apostrophe” and “of” forms.
8. What are dangling modifiers? Explain how they cause confusion in sentences.
9. Describe the rules for using articles before nouns that begin with vowels and consonants.
10. What are irregular verbs? Explain how they differ from regular verbs with suitable examples.
11. What is the difference between a noun and a verb? Give examples.
12. Give two examples of homophones and use them in sentences.
13. What are articles? Explain the difference between definite and indefinite articles with examples. Mention some exceptions in article usage.
14. Define an adverb. Discuss its types and functions in modifying verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs with examples.
15. Explain the rules of subject–verb agreement with examples.

LONG QUESTIONS

16. Explain the concept of nouns in English grammar. Discuss the different types of nouns with suitable examples. How do nouns function as the subject or object in a sentence?
17. What is a main verb? Describe its role in expressing the action or state of being in a sentence. Give examples to show the difference between main verbs and helping verbs.
18. How do modifiers improve the clarity and meaning of a sentence? Illustrate your answer with examples showing correct and misplaced modifiers.
19. What is an adjective? Discuss its types (such as descriptive, quantitative, demonstrative, possessive, and interrogative adjectives) with examples.
20. Describe the rules for forming the past tense of regular verbs ending with -e, -y, and consonants. Illustrate with examples.
21. What is a main verb? Explain its role in expressing an action or state of being, and differentiate it from a helping verb with examples.
22. What are homonyms? Explain how a single word can have more than one meaning. Give at least five examples with sentences.
23. What are the degrees of comparison of adjectives? Explain their formation and correct use with suitable examples.
24. Explain the use of articles in English grammar. Differentiate between the definite article and indefinite articles with examples and rules.
25. Explain the concept of subject–verb agreement. State the main rules with examples showing correct and incorrect usages.
26. What is the importance of verbs in sentence construction? Discuss how verbs show tense, number, and person with examples.
27. Discuss the different functions of nouns in English grammar. How do common, proper, and abstract nouns differ in meaning and usage? Give examples for each type.
28. Describe the different kinds of adverbs and their functions. How do adverbs modify the meaning of verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs? Use examples for clarity.
29. What is subject–verb agreement? Explain the basic rules and common exceptions that learners must remember. Illustrate with five examples showing correct agreement.
30. Compare regular and irregular verbs in detail. Write five sentences using regular verbs and five using irregular verbs to show their correct usage.

KEY

SHORT ANSWERS

1. Why are nouns and main verbs considered essential parts of sentence structure?

Answer: Nouns and main verbs are essential because a noun represents the subject or object (who or what), and the main verb shows the action or state of being. Together, they form the core of a sentence.

Example: The cat (noun) sleeps (main verb) on the mat.

2. How do nouns function as the object in a sentence? Give an example.

Answer: A noun functions as the object when it receives the action of the verb.

Example: She reads a book. (“book” is the object receiving the action “reads”)

3. Explain the degrees of comparison of adjectives. How are they formed and used correctly in sentences?

Answer:

Positive: basic form of adjective (beautiful)

Comparative: compares two things (more beautiful / prettier)

Superlative: compares three or more things (most beautiful / prettiest)

Example:

Positive: This flower is beautiful.

Comparative: This flower is prettier than that one.

Superlative: This is the prettiest flower in the garden.

4. What are articles? Explain the difference between definite and indefinite articles with examples.

Answer: Articles are words that define a noun as specific or general.

Definite article: the (specific) → The sun rises in the east.

Indefinite articles: a, an (general) → I saw a dog. / She ate an apple.

5. Describe the rules for using articles before nouns that begin with vowels and consonants.

Answer:

Use “a” before words starting with consonant sounds → a book, a cat

Use “an” before words starting with vowel sounds → an apple, an hour

Note: It depends on sound, not spelling.

6. Define a noun and write the different types of nouns.

Answer: A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea.

Types:

Proper nouns → John, Delhi

Common nouns → book, teacher

Abstract nouns → happiness, courage

Collective nouns → team, family

Possessive nouns → John's book, the girl's bag

7. Define possessive nouns and illustrate with apostrophe and “of” forms.

Answer: Possessive nouns show ownership.

Apostrophe form: Ravi’s book, the cat’s tail

“Of” form: the cover of the book, the tail of the cat

8. What are dangling modifiers? Explain how they cause confusion in sentences.

Answer: Dangling modifiers are phrases that do not clearly refer to any word in the sentence, causing confusion.

Example: Running fast, the finish line was reached. (Incorrect: it seems the finish line is running)

Correct: Running fast, she reached the finish line.

9. What are irregular verbs? Explain how they differ from regular verbs with suitable examples.

Answer:

Regular verbs: form past tense by adding -ed → walk → walked

Irregular verbs: do not follow the -ed rule → go → went, eat → ate

10. What is the difference between a noun and a verb? Give examples.

Answer:

Noun: Names a person, place, thing, or idea → teacher, city, book

Verb: Expresses an action or state → run, eat, sleep

Example: The teacher (noun) teaches (verb) the students.

11. Define an adverb. Discuss its types and functions in modifying verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs with examples.

Answer: An adverb modifies a verb, adjective, or another adverb, showing manner, place, time, frequency, or degree.

Types & Examples:

Manner → She sings beautifully.

Place → He went outside.

Time → We met yesterday.

Frequency → He often visits.

Degree → She is very happy.

12. Give two examples of homophones and use them in sentences.

Answer:

Flower / Flour → The flower is red. / She baked a cake with flour.

Pair / Pear → I bought a pair of shoes. / I ate a pear.

13. Explain the rules of subject–verb agreement with examples.

Answer:

Singular subject → singular verb → He runs fast.

Plural subject → plural verb → They run fast.

Exceptions: Collective nouns → The team is winning.

14. Compare regular and irregular verbs with examples of each in sentences.

Answer:

Regular → walk → walked → She walked to school.

Irregular → go → went → They went to the park.

15. Discuss some common exceptions in the use of articles in English, with examples.

Answer: Some nouns do not require articles → I like music.

Names of countries, languages, meals → She speaks French.

Abstract nouns → Freedom is important.

Special cases: the Netherlands, the Himalayas

LONG ANSWERS

16. Explain the concept of nouns in English grammar. Discuss the different types of nouns with suitable examples. How do nouns function as the subject or object in a sentence?

A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea. Nouns are essential because they act as subjects (who or what performs the action) or objects (who or what receives the action) in a sentence.

Types of nouns:

Proper nouns: specific names → John, Delhi

Common nouns: general names → book, teacher

Abstract nouns: ideas or qualities → happiness, courage

Collective nouns: a group → team, family

Subject example: The teacher (noun) teaches the students.

Object example: She reads a book (noun).

17. What is a main verb? Describe its role in expressing the action or state of being in a sentence. Give examples to show the difference between main verbs and helping verbs.

Main verb expresses the action or state of being in a sentence. It is the central verb that carries the meaning.

Examples:

Action: She writes a letter.

State of being: He is happy.

Helping verbs assist the main verb to indicate tense, mood, or voice → She is writing a letter.

Main verb: writing

Helping verb: is

18. How do modifiers improve the clarity and meaning of a sentence? Illustrate your answer with examples showing correct and misplaced modifiers.

Modifiers are words or phrases that describe or limit another word in a sentence. They clarify meaning by providing additional information.

Correct: The girl wearing a red dress is my sister.

Misplaced: The girl is my sister wearing a red dress. (It seems the sister is wearing the dress, not the girl.)

Impact: Correct placement avoids confusion and ensures clarity.

19. What is an adjective? Discuss its types (such as descriptive, quantitative, demonstrative, possessive, and interrogative adjectives) with examples.

An adjective is a word that describes a noun or pronoun.

Types & Examples:

Descriptive: beautiful, tall → The tall building

Quantitative: some, many → She has many books

Demonstrative: this, those → These shoes are new

Possessive: my, her → My bag is red

Interrogative: which, what → Which book is yours?

20. Describe the rules for forming the past tense of regular verbs ending with -e, -y, and consonants. Illustrate with examples.

Verbs ending in -e: add -d → love → loved

Verbs ending in consonant + y: change y → i + -ed → carry → carried

Other consonants: add -ed → walk → walked

Examples in sentences:

She loved the movie.

He carried the bag.

They walked to school.

21. What is a main verb? Explain its role in expressing an action or state of being, and differentiate it from a helping verb with examples.

Main verb expresses the action or state of being in a sentence. It is the central verb that carries the meaning.

Examples:

Action: She writes a letter.

State of being: He is happy.

Helping verbs assist the main verb to indicate tense, mood, or voice → She is writing a letter.

Action example: He plays football.

State example: She is happy.

Helping verb example: He is playing football.

Difference: The helping verb supports tense or aspect; the main verb carries the action.

22. What are homonyms? Explain how a single word can have more than one meaning. Give at least five examples with sentences.

Homonyms are words that sound or are spelled the same but have different meanings.

Examples:

Bat → animal / sports equipment → The bat flew at night. / He hit the ball with a bat.

Bank → riverbank / financial institution → She sat by the bank. / I deposited money in the bank.

Pen → writing tool / enclosure for animals → I write with a pen. / The sheep are in the pen.

Right → direction / correct → Turn right. / You are right.

Spring → season / coil → Spring is my favorite season. / The spring is broken.

23. What are the degrees of comparison of adjectives? Explain their formation and correct use with suitable examples.

Degrees of comparison:

Positive: basic form → tall

Comparative: compares two things → taller / more beautiful

Superlative: compares three or more → tallest / most beautiful

Examples:

Positive: This tree is tall.

Comparative: This tree is taller than that one.

Superlative: This is the tallest tree in the park.

24. Explain the use of articles in English grammar. Differentiate between the definite article and indefinite articles with examples and rules.

Articles are words used to define nouns as specific or general.

Definite article: the → refers to a specific noun → The sun rises in the east.

Indefinite articles: a, an → refer to a general noun → I saw a dog. / She ate an apple.

Rules:

a before consonant sounds → a cat

an before vowel sounds → an hour

the used when noun is known or unique → the president

25. Explain the concept of subject–verb agreement. State the main rules with examples showing correct and incorrect usages.

Subject–verb agreement ensures the verb matches the subject in number and person.

Rules:

Singular subject → singular verb → He runs fast.

Plural subject → plural verb → They run fast.

Collective nouns → usually singular → The team is winning.

Either/or → verb agrees with nearer subject → Either Ramesh or his friends are late.

Incorrect: The boys is playing.

Correct: The boys are playing.

26. What is the importance of verbs in sentence construction? Discuss how verbs show tense, number, and person with examples.

Verbs express action or state, making sentences meaningful. They indicate tense (past, present, future), number (singular/plural), and person (first, second, third).

Examples:

Tense: I walk (present), I walked (past), I will walk (future)

Number: He runs / They run

Person: I am, You are, He is

27. Discuss the different functions of nouns in English grammar. How do common, proper, and abstract nouns differ in meaning and usage? Give examples for each type.

Nouns can function as subjects, objects, or complements.

Types:

Common nouns: general → book, city

Proper nouns: specific → Delhi, Ravi

Abstract nouns: ideas → honesty, courage

Examples:

Subject: Honesty is valued.

Object: I read a book.

Complement: He is a teacher.

28. Describe the different kinds of adverbs and their functions. How do adverbs modify the meaning of verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs? Use examples for clarity.

Adverbs modify verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs.

Types:

Manner: how → He runs quickly.

Place: where → She went outside.

Time: when → We met yesterday.

Frequency: how often → He often visits.

Degree: to what extent → She is very happy.

29. What is subject–verb agreement? Explain the basic rules and common exceptions that learners must remember. Illustrate with five examples showing correct agreement.

Subject–verb agreement is the matching of a verb with its subject in number and person.

Rules & Examples:

Singular → singular verb → He writes a letter.

Plural → plural verb → They write letters.

Collective nouns → usually singular → The committee meets today.

Either/or → verb agrees with nearest subject → Either Ramesh or his friends are late.

Titles of books, movies → singular → “Harry Potter” is popular.

30. Compare regular and irregular verbs in detail. Write five sentences using regular verbs and five using irregular verbs to show their correct usage.

Regular verbs: form past tense by adding -ed → walk → walked

Irregular verbs: do not follow -ed pattern → go → went

Regular verb sentences:

She walked to school.

He played football.

They cooked dinner.

I cleaned my room.

We listened to music.

Irregular verb sentences:

He went to the market.

She ate an apple.

They took the bus.

I wrote a letter.

We saw a movie.

