

Week-5

Types of Cover Letter

- 1) Solicited
- 2) Unsolicited

Qualities looked for GD - Group Discussion

- 1) Leadership Qualities : Taking initiative
Ability to give direction
Taking the group along Listening
Goal fulfillment

2) Knowledge of the Subject :

Presentation of Debts
Error-free presentation

3) Analytical Ability - Use of arguments ,

4) Clarity of Thought - Distillation of essentials.

5) Conviction

Do's

1) Kiss

2) Fol

3) Ma

4) C

5)

6)

7)

D

1)

2

3

5) Conviction and Flexibility :

The strength with which the argument is posted

DO's GD

- 1) Kiss - Keep it short & simple
- 2) Follow principles of oral communication
- 3) Make even contributions
- 4) Concludes periodically
- 5) Deliberate & be slow in delivering your points.
- 6) principles of politeness
- 7) Substantiate your point with examples.

Don'ts of

GD - (Group Discussion)

- 1) Don't Speak : loudly
- 2) Don't Adopt a negative stance
- 3) Don't give a casual look
- 4) Don't flay hands

5) Don't talk too fast

Body Sport for GD's

Position

Significance

Push your body
to the back of
your chair

Keeps you
alert

Keep your hands
on your lap right
atop the left

Indicates that you are a logical person

Keep your legs
stationed on the ground, right
and left leg intertwined
beneath the chair

Keeps you
firmly positioned

Hand movement
restricted

Types of

i) Factors

ii) A

Hand movement should be restricted

→ Indicates that you do not need hands as props when speaking

Types of Group Discussions (GD)

i) Factual Topics - eg: (The education policy of India, Terrorism in India)

ii) Issue Topics - (Reservations should be removed, women make better managers)

iii) Abstract Topics -
(A is an Alphabet, Twinkle little star)

10 simple rules to easily crack a GD

- i) Keep eye contact while speaking
- ii) Initiate the GD
- iii) Allow others to speak
- iv) Speak clearly
- v) Make sure to bring the discussion on track
- vi) Positive attitude
- vii) Speak sensibly
- viii) Listen carefully to others
- ix) No need to go into much details.
- x) Formal dress